

Phonics Focus

Hello everyone, this week we have been learning 4 more new GPCs in our phonics sessions – h h h, b b b, ffffff and llllllll. Thank you so much to everyone who joined us for our phonics workshop this morning, we hope you found this session useful. If you have any questions, please speak to your class teacher. After half term, the children will start their reading groups in school. Each child will read their book twice in school before bringing it home at the end of the week. We hope you have a wonderful half-term break.

We say 'h h h'

'Down, up and over the helicopter'

We say 'b b b'

'Down the bears back, up and around his tummy.'

We say 'ffffff'

'Down the flamingo to its foot and across its wings.'

We say 'llllllllll'

'Down the lollipop stick.'

Can your child read these words?
